equality duty, led by Julian Milford KC and Rupert Paines.

- R (Jackson) v Secretary of State for Work and Pensions [2020] 1 W.L.R. 1441, [2020] EWHC 183 (Admin): acting for the Defendant in a claim of discrimination contrary to Art.14 of the ECHR on the ground of marital/civil partnership status in relation to social welfare entitlements, led by Julian Milford.

Ben has particular interest in strategic litigation and public interest law in the fields of equality, education and environmental protection. This builds upon his research before coming to the Bar, which addressed the use of law and litigation by NGOs and community groups.

Education Law

Ben has a wide education law practice and regularly accepts instructions from universities, schools, parents, students and local authorities.

He has acted for a large number of universities in cases brought by students alleging discrimination and breach of academic regulations.

Ben also has significant experience of appearing in special education needs (SEN) and additional learning needs (ALN) cases before the First-tier and Upper Tribunal and exclusion cases before Independent Review Panels. Ben volunteers as a barrister mentor with the School Exclusion Project.

Ben also has a strong advisory practice, having advised a number of universities, school, local authorities and individuals on education law issues, including:

- Support and accommodation for transgender students in school
- Various academy issues, including on the provision of funding and land management
- Policies and procedures on permanent exclusion from school and on the legality of “managed moves”
- The legality of school closures
- Complaints to the Office of the Independent Adjudicator for Higher Education (OIA)
- SEN and decisions by local authorities to amend or cease to maintain Education, Health and Care Plans (EHCP)

Public International and European Union Law

Ben has a varied international law practice, encompassing public international law and EU law, arising in inter-state disputes and domestic cases.

Recent matters raising public international law include:

- Advising a state on the application of international sanctions regimes, assisting Paul Reichler.
- Submissions to the Privy Council on behalf of a state resisting an injunction to restrain the sale of a super yacht, led by Richard Leiper KC.
- Acting for a state party in an inter-state arbitration relating to the export of agricultural products, assisting Paul Reichler.

Recent matters raising EU law include:

- Advising a group of technology companies on the implications of the Digital Markets Act (DMA).
- Acting for an environmental NGO in an application for annulment before the Court of Justice against the “EU taxonomy for sustainable activities” on grounds that it fails to meet minimum thresholds of environmental protection.
- Advising various data controllers on compliance with the EU General Data Protection Regulation (GDPR)

- Case T-575/22 Wood and Others v Commission: Acting for the Applicant environmental campaigners and organisations in a challenge to the 'EU Taxonomy for sustainable practices' on grounds that they fail to protect the environment by not complying with the minimum thresholds of environmental protection set out in Regulation (EU) 2020/852.
- Case T-141/19 Sabo and Others v Parliament and Council (The EU Biomass Case): Acting for the Applicants (individuals and environmental NGOs from across the EU and the USA) in a challenge to the EU's support for the forest biomass industry in the Renewable Energy Directive (Recast) (REDII) on the basis of the human rights and environmental protection principles in the EU Treaties.

Employment Law

Ben regularly represents employees and employers in all areas of employment law. He has particular expertise in cases of discrimination, harassment, and victimisation under the Equality Act 2010.

Ben also has experience of advising on and appearing in employment law cases, including questions of:

- Employee status
- Redundancy
- Holiday pay and annual leave
- The Employment Tribunal's territorial jurisdiction
- Whistleblowing
- Transfer of undertakings (TUPE)
- Constructive, unfair, wrongful and discriminatory dismissal
- Breach of contract, including the term of mutual trust and confidence

Relevant judgments include:

- Werner v University of Southampton UKEAT/0038/21/LA (26 October 2021): acting for the Respondent in the Employment Appeal Tribunal, successfully resisting an appeal on grounds of procedural unfairness and bias.
- R (Adiatu) v HM Treasury [2020] EWHC 1554 (Admin), [2020] IRLR 658: acting for the Defendant in a challenge to the furlough scheme (Coronavirus Job Retention Scheme) and statutory sick pay on the grounds of discrimination under EU law and the ECHR and compliance with the public sector equality duty, led by Julian Milford KC and Rupert Paines.

Data Protection, Information and Media Law

Ben has substantial experience across information law and is regularly instructed in domestic and EU law matters relating to data protection, access to information and the Digital Markets Act (DMA).

Ben is currently co-writing a book titled A Practical Guide to Data Protection, Privacy and Information Law, to be published by the Law Society in winter 2024.

Ben often appears for the courts and tribunals for businesses, individuals and the Information Commissioner's Office (ICO) in matters relating to:

- Claims against data controllers for data breaches or subject access requests. Ben also regularly advises on tactical steps to minimise the costs and inconvenience to businesses and organisations caused by these claims.
- Challenges to fines under Monetary Penalty Notices under PECR and the DPA/GDPR.
- Appeals against Decision Notices under the Freedom of Information Act (FOIA) and the Environmental Information Regulations (EIR).

Public Procurement and State Aid

Ben has considerable experience of the application of the procurement and state aid rules.

Ben is frequently instructed in a number of procurement matters by economic operators and contracting authorities, as part of a large counsel team and individually, including:

- Draeger Safety UK Ltd v London Fire Commissioner [2021] EWHC 2221 (TCC); 197 Con L.R. 151, led by Jason Coppel KC, representing the successful claimant resisting an application to lift an automatic suspension on contract-making under the Public Contracts Regulations 2015
- Acting for a defendant in a large procurement challenge under the Public Contracts Regulations 2015, led by Jason Coppel KC and Joseph Barrett
- Drafting particulars of claim, advising and assisting with pre-action correspondence for various claimants and defendants
