Tom Cross KC is recognised in the legal directories as one of the country's leading Silks in seven areas: Administrative & Public Law, Civil Liberties & Human Rights, Education, Professional Discipline, Local Government, Employment, and Data Protection.

The latest edition of Chambers & Partners describes him as "an extraordinary talent", "at the very top of his game", and "a phenomenal lawyer doing exceptional work".

He is principally known for his work at the top of the fields of public law, human rights and discrimination, across a wide-range of subject-matter and for all types of client. Before Silk, he was described in the Legal 500 as: "the best junior at the public law bar, without question", and served for many years on the Attorney-General's most senior panel of junior Counsel in civil cases.

His industry awards include UK Public Law Junior of the Year 2018 and UK Employment Law Junior of the Year 2019, and his nominations include UK Public Law Junior of the Year 2022 and Public Services and Charities Junior of the Year 2023.

Expertise

Public and Regulatory

Recognised before Silk as "the best junior at the public law bar, without question" (Chambers & Partners), and ranked by Chambers & Partners as one of a small number of "Band 1" juniors in the UK, he was nominated as UK Public Law Junior of the Year on a number of occasions, winning in 2019. His work covers the entire field, from domestic administrative, constitutional, and regulatory disputes to proceedings in the Privy Council and the international courts. He is Counsel to the Crown (A Panel) and one of the Equality and Human Rights Commission's Panel Counsel, but acts just as often for commercial or individual claimants and interested parties as he does for government. He has been involved in many of the most important public and regulatory cases of the past decade.
