Tom Cross KC is highly ranked by each of the principal legal directories in seven areas: Administrative & Public Law, Civil Liberties & Human Rights, Education, Professional Discipline, Local Government, Employment, and Data Protection.

He took Silk in 2025. He is described in the directories as "a powerhouse in litigation" who "inspires great confidence". Before Silk, he was described as: "the best junior at the public law bar, without question". He was nominated UK Public Law Junior of the Year 2022, and Public Services and Charities Junior of the Year 2023. He was UK Public Law Junior of the Year 2018 (Legal 500) and UK Employment Law Junior of the Year 2019 (Chambers & Partners).

Very unflappable.

He acts for claimants, defendants, and other parties, principally in litigation. His private and public sector clients range from major companies to private individuals, UK and foreign governments, and regulatory bodies. He is on the Panel of Silks used by the Crown in civil cases (having previously been on the Attorney General's 'A Panel' when junior Counsel) and is one of the Counsel to the Equality and Human Rights Commission.

Expertise

Public and Regulatory

Recognised before Silk as "the best junior at the public law bar, without question" (Chambers & Partners), and ranked by Chambers & Partners as one of a small number of "Band 1" juniors in the UK, he was nominated as UK Public Law Junior of the Year on a number of occasions, winning in 2019. His work covers the entire field, from domestic administrative, constitutional, and regulatory disputes to proceedings in the Privy Council and the international courts. He is Counsel to the Crown (A Panel) and one of the Equality and Human Rights Commission's Panel Counsel, but acts just as often for commercial or individual claimants and interested parties as he does for government. He has been involved in many of the most important public and regulatory cases of the past decade.

Tom is a top-notch performer and really technically capable.
