Expertise

Health & Community Care

James has appeared in many cases related both to the NHS and to community care, including R (F) v Buckinghamshire County Council (2019) EWHC 1817 (Admin) on closure of children's centres and consultation.

Recent cases include R (Lancashire County Council) v SoS for Health and Social Care (2021) EWHC 268 (Admin), (2021) 24 CCLR 57, dispute between two local authorities as to which of them had responsibility for funding accommodation for an individual who had suffered brain damage.

R (F) v Buckinghamshire County Council

(2019) EWHC 1817 (ADMIN)

Closure of children's centres and consultation

R (Lancashire CC) v Secretary of State for Health and Social Care

[2021] EWHC 268 (ADMIN), [2021] 2 WLUK 211

Challenge to a determination of an "ordinary residence" dispute, i.e. which local authority is responsible for a person. The case was the first test of the "Greenwich principle": the principle by which, if a local authority should have taken particular steps but failed to take them, ordinary residence and responsibility is determined on the presumed factual basis that the local authority had in fact taken those steps.

Achievements

Appointments

James is a Master of the Bench of the Inner Temple and has been a Deputy High Court Judge. He is a member of the Bar of the Eastern Caribbean Supreme Court in its Antigua and Barbuda and of British Virgin Islands jurisdictions. He has been admitted ad hoc to the Bars of Bermuda, the Cayman Islands, Hong Kong, Malawi, Northern Ireland and Singapore. He is a former Chairman of the Law Reform Committee of the Bar Council, of the Administrative Law Bar Association and the Bar European Group.

News, Articles & Publications

In addition to numerous articles, publications include:
