Oliver practises across all areas of Chambers' work, with a particular focus on employment and discrimination law. He is ranked by Legal 500 as a "Rising Star" in employment law and is described as "a superb barrister".

Prior to coming to the Bar, Oliver was the Judicial Assistant to the Senior President of Tribunals in the Court of Appeal and taught law at the London School of Economics and Political Science.

Oliver is a superb barrister. He does not shy away from a legal scrap and is engaged by the human angles as well as the legal ones.

LEGAL 500

Expertise

Public Law, Human Rights

Oliver advises and acts for individuals, non-governmental organisations, and local and central government in all aspects of public law, both led and unled.

Oliver also has a particular interest in human rights litigation in Southern Africa. He does pro bono work for the Southern African Litigation Centre and was involved in a successful appeal to the Supreme Court of Eswatini challenging the decision of the Registrar of Companies to refuse to register an LGBTI advocacy organisation.
