Nunn v G and MJ Crouch and Son Ltd

[2025] EAT 187

The ET rejected numerous allegations of harassment on the grounds that the conduct was not "unwanted" by the claimant and did not have the proscribed effect on her. In doing so they relied on her failure to complain at the time and the fact that she appeared to go along with it. The EAT found that, in the context of this case and having regard to all the evidence, the ET was entitled to take these points into consideration and to reach the findings of fact which they did. Ronnie acted for the successful employer.

Tribunal dismisses 169 complaints against university

(DECEMBER 2025)

The claimant sued his former employer for harassment/ direct discrimination related to disability/ race/ age/ sex, victimisation, failure to make reasonable adjustments, automatic and ordinary unfair dismissal and breach of contract. The ET dismissed 169 out of 172 complaints. The ET found that the claimant had been unfairly dismissed, but that any compensatory award should be reduced by 85% to reflect the chance he would have been dismissed in any event. Ronnie acted for the employer at the 2-week hearing.

Tribunal dismisses 41 complaints against local authority

(OCTOBER 2025)

The claimant was dismissed from her role as the respondent's Monitoring Officer after failing her probation. She brought 43 claims for racial harassment/ direct discrimination, including in respect of the Chief Executive's recommendation that she be dismissed, and Full Council's decision to approve that recommendation. The ET dismissed those and 39 other claims. Only 2 claims were upheld relating to an earlier comment and WhatsApp message. Ronnie acted for the employer at the 4-week hearing.

Tribunal upholds unfair dismissal, harassment, victimisation and whistleblowing claims

(SEPTEMBER 2024)

The claimant was a senior employee of a global financial services firm. He made disclosures to HR about his manager being guilty of misogyny and sexism, and was then dismissed on terms forfeiting his equity. The ET found that his equity treatment was influenced by his disclosures and therefore constituted victimisation and whistleblowing detriment. The ET also found he had been harassed by events he disclosed to HR, and that announcements about his departure were further acts of victimisation and whistleblowing detriment. Ronnie acted for the successful claimant at the 9-day hearing. Read more about the case .

Dadhania v SAP (UK) Ltd & Ors

(JANUARY 2023)

Tribunal grants interim relief in whistleblowing claim

(JUNE 2017)

The ET granted interim relief to a Senior Director of Business Development in his whistleblowing claim against his former employer, a multinational computer services company. The Tribunal was satisfied that the claimant was likely to succeed in showing he was dismissed for making protected disclosures about sexual harassment and tax fraud, rather than for poor performance as alleged by the company. Ronnie acted for the successful claimant.

Achievements

Education

University of Oxford, Bachelor of Civil Law, Distinction & Law Faculty Prize

University College London, Law LLB, First Class

Ronnie drafted my interim relief claim in an employment dispute that attracted significant media attention. He had the courage and strategic insight to advise me to set aside some of my allegations in order to sharpen the focus on the most compelling elements. The resulting draft was incredibly strong — clear, forceful, and persuasive. My employer chose not to face it in tribunal and settled the matter on exceptional, possibly unprecedented, terms.
