Silk: 2022 Call: 2002

E: Joanne.Clement@11kbw.com

T: +44 (0)20 7632 8500

Joanne took silk in 2022, practicing in all areas of public law and human rights law. Her practice extends from commercial judicial review to claims raising significant constitutional and human rights issues. She is also an expert in local government, and health, community care and mental capacity law, as well as in the field of procurement law and education law. Prior to taking silk, Joanne was a highly rated junior, and was top ranked by the legal directories in six practice areas (Administrative & Public Law, Civil Liberties & Human Rights, Local Government, Education, Community Care and Court of Protection).

She was the Chambers and Partners Public Law and Human Rights Junior of the Year in 2018/19. Recent cases include R (Article 39) v Secretary of State for Education [2022] EWHC 589 (Admin) (challenge to statutory instrument banning use of unregulated accommodation for young children); R (A) v Secretary of State for the Home Department [2022] EWHC 360 (Admin) (Parliamentary privilege and public law challenges to decisions resulting in primary legislation) and In Re T [2021] UKSC 35; [2021] 3 WLR 643 (Article 5, secure accommodation and deprivation of liberty of children).

Has a brilliant manner with judges

CHAMBERS AND PARTNERS

Prior to taking silk, Joanne was a member of the Attorney General's Panel of Counsel for 15 years, having most recently been a member of the "A" Panel of Counsel. Joanne was also a member of the Welsh Government's Panel of Junior Counsel, and has now been appointed to the Welsh Government's KC Panel. Joanne has led teams in the Supreme Court, and has regularly appeared as leading or sole counsel in the Court of Appeal, the Administrative Court, the Family Division/Court of Protection and various tribunals.

Joanne sits as a Recorder in the Crown Court (South Eastern Circuit)

Expertise

Public Law & Human Rights

Joanne is a public law specialist. She was Chambers & Partners Public Law and Human Rights Junior of the Year and prior to taking silk, was top ranked by the directories as a leading junior in Administrative & Public law and Civil Liberties & Human Rights. She practices in all areas of judicial review and public law, including human rights cases and commercial judicial review. Joanne acts for central and local government, other public bodies, third sector organisations, companies and individuals. She appears frequently in the Administrative Court, the Court of Appeal and Supreme Court (including as leading counsel).

Joanne has experience of judicial review claims in a wide range of contexts, ranging from a £5 billion challenge to the PIP regime, a challenge to NHS hospital closures, challenge to the much criticised reforms to criminal legal aid services, various challenges to the legal framework governing the deprivation of liberty of children, and challenges to forced Academy conversions.

Joanne has particular expertise in devolution issues (having appeared before the Supreme Court in two devolution references) and in local government law (see Local Government details below)

Joanne has an extensive advisory and litigation practice in the human rights field. She has experience of dealing with cases raising human rights issues across a wide range of areas from the state's obligation to investigate deaths in detention, to religious freedoms and privacy rights. She has particular expertise in Article 14 and discrimination issues, and Article 5 and deprivation of liberty.

Joanne is extremely experienced at a range of judicial review challenges, particularly in respect of education, health and central and local government vires.
