Hannah was shortlisted for the 2025 Legal 500 'Media and the arts junior of the year'. Her practice covers the full ambit of media and information law, including:

- Defamation and malicious falsehood (Hannah was previously at One Brick Court, where she acted as junior to silks such as Richard Rampton KC, Andrew Caldecott KC and Manuel Barca KC);
- Privacy and breach of confidence;
- Data protection, including data breach and group litigation;
- Harassment.

Hannah has experience across each of those practice areas and is particularly well placed to deal with actions involving both data/privacy and reputational issues. She has considerable experience in group litigation claims and has acted in large-scale commercial actions involving information law issues. Hannah also has a keen interest in non-contentious reputation management and strategy work. This includes press and social media monitoring on behalf of high profile individuals and corporations.

> She's very bright and gives good commercial advice.

> CHAMBERS & PARTNERS 2016

Hannah has recently appeared in the Supreme Court for the Defendant in Farley v Equiniti, which will decide whether a threshold of seriousness applies in UK data protection law. Other case highlights include:

- A Supreme Court appearance in a landmark privacy action concerning the right of arrestees in child sex offence cases to remain anonymous (Khuja v Times Newspapers Ltd);
- Acting for AOL in Lachaux v AOL (UK) Ltd, which gave rise to the first appellate decision on the 'serious harm test' under section 1 of the Defamation Act 2013;
- Acting for the largest group of Defendants between 2014 and 2020 in multi-million-pound litigation concerning the alleged blacklisting of construction workers (The Construction Industry Vetting Information Group Litigation);
- Acting for English water companies against restitution claims for over £150 million in fees paid for information which it was said ought to have been provided for free (The Environmental Information Regulations Litigation).

On qualification, Hannah was awarded a Pegasus Scholarship to work at the New York offices of Levine Sullivan Koch & Schulz LLP, where she gained both a broad grounding in American media law and experience in advising on cross-jurisdictional issues.

Expertise

Cases of interest

Lazarevic v Refinitiv Ltd, Ioannides v Refinitiv Ltd (2026) – Hannah acted for Refinitiv Ltd in these two actions, both of which settled shortly before trial and concerned what were said to be inaccurate and damaging entries on the Defendant's 'World-Check' platform. Hannah has previously acted for Refinitiv Ltd on various matters, including claims brought by Mehmet Baltaci (concerning World-Check's "non-conviction terror" category) and Calvin Ayre (categorised in World-Check as a "Politically Exposed Person").

Farley v Equiniti [2025] EWCA Civ 1117 – Hannah has acted for the Defendant since the pre-action stage in relation to over 400 data protection and privacy claims brought by police officers whose pension statements were accidentally sent to outdated addresses. The recent hearing in the Supreme Court will decide whether a threshold of seriousness applies in UK data protection law.

PMC v A Local Health Board [2025] EWCA Civ 1126 – led by Anya Proops KC on behalf of the Personal Injuries Bar Association in this highly significant judgment concerning applications for anonymity and reporting restriction orders.

Surrey Searches Limited and Others v Northumbrian Water Limited and Others [2024] EWHC 1643 (Ch) – led by Timothy Pitt-Payne KC and Edmund Nourse KC for the successful water companies in a six-week trial, which led to a seminal decision on the scope and application of the Environmental Information Regulations 2004.

Richard Lynton-Jones v Baroness Michelle Mone (2022) – acted for Baroness Mone in a libel action arising from comments published by her to the Guardian and via her Instagram page. In the same year Hannah, led by Adrienne Page KC, acted for the Claimant in a libel action successfully brought in relation to allegations of money laundering first made in Parliament and protected by privilege (Christopher Chandler v Chris Bryant MP).

Kamirih v Facebook & Ors (2022) – acted for Facebook in successfully defending an action brought against various internet and technology companies.

Project Red Card (2021) – acted for one of the parties, led by Anya Proops KC, in this high-profile matter concerning the legality of statistical sports data handling.

Horsfall v Google LLC (2021) – acted for Google in successfully seeking an order that the court had no jurisdiction to try a 'right to be forgotten' claim. Hannah previously acted for Google in a successful application to strike out a claim brought on 'right to be forgotten' grounds (Bonham-Smith v Google UK Ltd) and in relation to an allegedly defamatory review on the 'Google My Business' platform (Henry Herbert Ltd v Google UK Ltd).

The Construction Industry Vetting Information Group Litigation (2014-2020) – for the largest group of Defendant construction companies, led by Andrew Caldecott KC and Edmund Nourse KC, in this high-profile group litigation concerning the alleged blacklisting of construction workers. Hannah subsequently acted in the consequential Part 20 proceedings (The Corporate Macfarlanes Defendants v Amec Building Ltd) and in Collins v Crossrail & Ors, which concerned alleged blacklisting on the Crossrail Project.

Danielle Hindley v Associated Newspapers Ltd (2020) – Hannah acted for the Claimant in a libel action successfully brought over false allegations in the Mail on Sunday that Ms Hindley was a "rogue beautician" who had "botched" treatments.

Kennedy v National Trust for Scotland [2019] EWCA Civ 648 – for the National Trust for Scotland, prior to maternity leave, in this important libel and data protection matter concerning issues of forum and service.

Bains & Ors v Moore & Ors v Wetherby Select Ltd & Ors (2017-2018) – acted for various Non-Parties in relation to these significant privacy, breach of confidence and data protection proceedings concerning alleged corporate espionage and the asbestos industry (led by Manuel Barca KC).

Paul Lunt v Times Newspapers Limited (2018) – for solicitor Mr Lunt, led by Manuel Barca KC, in a libel action successfully brought in relation to an article published in the Times Newspaper which wrongly identified Mr Lunt as the subject of a serious allegation of criminality.

Lachaux v AOL (UK) Ltd [2017] EWCA Civ 1334 – for AOL, led by Manuel Barca KC and, in the Court of Appeal, by Andrew Caldecott KC, in the first-of-its-kind trial of the preliminary issue of serious harm under section 1 of the Defamation Act 2013.

Khuja v Times Newspapers Ltd & Others [2017] UKSC 49 – for the Claimant, led by Manuel Barca KC, in an application for an interim non-disclosure order preventing the identity of the Claimant as an arrestee from being disclosed by The Times newspaper. The case gave rise to a landmark privacy decision of the Supreme Court.

Daley v Griffiths (2017) – instructed in relation to a complaint by the Olympic diver Tom Daley concerning the destruction of images and video footage obtained via private communications.

Rightio Ltd v Twitter Inc. (2016) – for Twitter in relation to an application to disclose information concerning account holders alleged to have published defamatory Tweets.
